

Already too few companies own too much media. We need to have more ownership of media, not controlled by a few.